

Grand Rapids Youth Symphony & Classical Orchestra Tuition Assistance

The Grand Rapids Youth Symphony & Classical Orchestra (GRYS & CO) has been granted money from the Grand Rapids Symphony Women's Committee to provide tuition assistance for this season. Financial assistance is offered to students for the second part of the season so they may profit from the orchestral music experience. This assistance will help give deserving young musicians the ability to participate in the orchestra even though it may be difficult to meet the financial requirements of tuition. Application forms for tuition assistance must be completed and submitted in the given time period. Tuition assistance will be limited to 50% of a full tuition cost. It will be used to pay for the second half of the season unless the Tuition Assistance Committee determines a specific financial hardship exists which warrants a greater award. Tuition monies are available for unpaid tuitions, and, there are no reimbursements for paid tuition.

A Tuition Assistance application deadline is August 1 before new season starts. The GRYS & CO are committed to making assistance available to all who need it. All information provided by applicants will be maintained in a confidential manner. Misrepresentation of financial information or circumstances may result in an immediate withdrawal of any tuition assistance award. Parent(s) or Guardians will be notified through the mail of assistance awards before August 1 before new season starts.
